

PARTS OF A BIRD'S BODY

Beaks, wings, feathers and feet are the main parts of a bird's body. The shape of the beak depends on the kind of food the birds eat. Some birds can fly and others cannot. Birds perch on trees, wade in water, run and walk with the help of their claws or feet.

